

EISENHOWER, DWIGHT D.:
POST-PRESIDENTIAL PAPERS, 1961-69

1969 PRINCIPAL FILE

Series Description

This series contains correspondence that Dwight D. Eisenhower received during the last three months of his life as well as some letters and memos from staff in April and May 1969. Eisenhower spent the entire January to March period at Walter Reed. Robert Schulz, Eisenhower's aide, responded to the bulk of the letters, cards, and telegrams written to Eisenhower and indicated to many correspondents that Eisenhower's health problems made it impossible for him to make a personal response. Nonetheless, there are a limited number of letters from Eisenhower to individuals, including Harold Macmillan, Charles De Gaulle, Walter Cronkite, and Earl Warren. In March 1969 Eisenhower wrote a letter to Irving Berlin thanking him for the "wonderful melodies" he had created for everyone to enjoy.

The series is divided into three subseries; the Subject Subseries, the Alphabetical Subseries, and the Bulk Mail Subseries. The first two subseries contain most of the correspondence and the last subseries contains the larger, bulky items staff did not want to mix with the correspondence. Besides cards and letters, some people sent Eisenhower gifts of books, poems, flowers, and candy. Some of the subjects covered in the correspondence include fund raising efforts for the Eisenhower College, the publication and sale of Eisenhower's In Review, the Johns Hopkins Press project to published a selection of Eisenhower's records, the National Railroad Museum and the Eisenhower locomotive and cars, and Eisenhower's response to the John Birch Society and the book The Politician. The series also contains lists of schools named after Eisenhower, a list of his honorary degrees, lists of people sending letters of encouragement, and lists of items shipped to the Eisenhower Library in Abilene, Kansas.

Recorded in this series is the fact that in February 1969 Schulz was appointed by President Richard Nixon to the position of Special Assistant to the President for Liaison with Former Presidents. Schulz suffered a serious heart attack on April 24, 1969 and had to cut back on his activities for several weeks.

The 1969 Principal File illustrates the efforts by Brigadier General Schulz to handle most of Eisenhower's correspondence. Although the number of letters signed by Eisenhower is limited, it reflects his efforts to be involved in matters of importance to him.

There are no closed or classified documents in this series. Eighty seven photographs have been transferred to the Audiovisual Department, eight items have been sent to the Museum, and fifty eight pages of documents have been placed in the Preservation File.
